Time for David Pingree...

I came across a really cool product this week. I've seen so many stolen bikes lately that when Jeff Cranny showed me his patented locking tie-downs, I knew right away he had something great. His Lockstraps are well constructed using eight bound steel cables, sandwiched between double nylon webbing, tuff rivets, and dual combination carabineer locks. They are 8.5 feet long, 1.5 inches wide, 1/4" thick, and weigh 2 pounds each. They come backed with a 100% satisfaction guarantee and a one-year parts-and-labor warranty. Now you can secure motorcycles, tools, equipment, bicycles - anything - in less than a minute. Each strap is sold individually and has a retail price of $39.95. Lockstraps can be found nationwide at local shops, dealerships etc. They can also be purchased through www.lockingtiedowns.com. This is honestly the best and easiest thing you can do to protect your bike. Check it out.
